

The reason for the chart's shape is due to the fact that the group wanted to use all the time available to complete the tasks to the highest quality. This is the reason for the steep downward slope near the end of the sprint. In addition, we added a new story halfway through our sprint which increased the total remaining points.

Our velocity increased from 55 to 75 this sprint. We learned from the mistakes we made last sprint by starting early and ensuring that we didn't neglect small tasks. As a result, we accomplished more than what we had expected this sprint.
